CARL PAGANELLI'S STORY

"My wife Cathy was my high school sweetheart and we were blessed with two beautiful daughters, Carley and Crysta. She was the rock of our family, and without her support, I would never have followed my dream of becoming an NFL official. Cathy was my biggest fan, my love, my life."

The pressure and stress of officiating a Super Bowl is intense but nothing compares to the pressure, stress, and anxiety of trying to keep my family together and continue life after Cathy's death. Faith Hospice became part of our family. Bereavement Coordinator, Janet Jaymin, walked beside us before Cathy's death and after, providing grief support with love and compassion.

While I've met many Super Bowl Champions in my life, my true champions are the Faith Hospice staff. They offer love, compassion, and support when families are most vulnerable. They walk beside you every step of the way to face undeniably the worst time in life."
